

Once upon a time there was a frog named Theo.
Well, his name was actually Theodore Cornelius Baffelus III.

Although he had a very noble name,
when he looked at his reflection in the pond,
he only saw an ordinary green frog without a crown . . .

Growing up, Theo had always heard stories about a princess who,
with a single kiss, turned a frog into a prince.
He wished that one day he too would turn into a prince.

Theo knew it wouldn't be easy to become a prince. First of all, he had to find a princess, who then had to like him enough to kiss him.

Even the thought of being kissed made him blush a little. He felt nervous about finding a princess, but was up for the challenge. After all, this was his only chance to become a prince.

