In a snow-white palace far away, live two mischievous twins, Prince Leon and Princess Luna.

While their parents, the queen and king, are reading downstairs, Leon and Luna devise a plan in their homemade fort.

"Shh . . . we must be quiet," Princess Luna whispers. "Or Mommy and Daddy will hear us."

At midnight, they'll creep out of their beds and search each room of the house for special things. Monkey, Little Dragon, and the three mice will help. The mouse with the red bow is a rascal. Keep a close eye on him.

Mommy cat isn't happy. She lost her five kittens . . .
