

CONTENTS

Introduction	v
Part I
Basic principles of contract law and the role of good faith and fair dealing in consortium agreements for research projects Annekatrien LENAERTS	1
Introduction	1
Chapter 1. Different role of good faith and fair dealing in continental law and common law systems	2
Section 1. Different approach to good faith and fair dealing	2
§1. Continental law systems: important role of good faith in the interpretation and performance of contracts	2
§2. Common law systems: primacy of legal certainty and autonomy of the parties	3
Section 2. Different design of contracts	5
§1. Continental law systems: an open-ended design	5
§2. Common law systems: a detailed design	6
Chapter II. Evaluation of the role of good faith and fair dealing in the model grant and consortium agreements from a Belgian law perspective.	7
Section 1. Basic principle of the autonomy of the parties in Belgian contract law	8
§1. Historical perspective: intention of the parties at the basis of the contract	8
§2. Fundamental principles based on the autonomy of the parties	9
A. Freedom of contract	9
B. Binding force of the contract	11
C. Consensualism	12
Section 2. Corrections to the principle of the autonomy of the parties in Belgian contract law	13
§1. Evolution: limits to the intention of the parties at the basis of the contract	13
§2. Corrective role of the principle of reliance	14
§3. Important role of the judge in the determination of contractual rights: corrective role of the principle of reasonableness and fairness	19

Section 3. Role of objective good faith in Belgian contract law	21
§1. Interpretation of the contract	21
A. Interpretation rules in the Civil Code	21
1. Legal scope of the rules	21
2. Basic rule: common intention of the parties	22
3. Other rules to discover the common intention of the parties	25
4. Subsidiary rule of Article 1162 Civil Code	25
B. Interpretation rules outside the Civil Code	26
C. Interpretative function of good faith?	27
§2. Completion of the contract	29
A. Completion rules in the Civil Code	29
B. Compleitive function of good faith	30
1. Duty of information	32
2. Duty of reduction of the damage	34
3. Duties of collaboration during the performance of the contract	35
4. Duties of loyalty and solidarity with regard to the application of contractual sanctions or the termination of the contract	37
5. Duty of renegotiation with regard to long-term agreements	38
§3. Limitation of the exercise of contractual rights	41
A. Limitative function of good faith	41
B. Link with the general principle of the prohibition of abuse of rights	43
1. An exclusive link	43
2. Criteria of the abuse of rights	44
3. Sanction of the abuse of rights	45
Conclusion	47
Part II
Dynamic conclusion of the contract and proof
Tâm DANG VU and Ilse SAMOY	49
Introduction	49
Chapter I. Conclusion of the consortium agreement	50
Section 1. The negotiation phase	50
§1. General principles	50
§2. Preliminary documents	52
A. Non-binding documents	52
B. Preparatory contracts	53
1. Definition	53
2. Obligations regarding negotiations and withdrawal	53
3. Confidentiality clauses	54

4. Exclusivity clauses	55
5. Duration and survival	56
6. Costs	56
7. Resolution of issues	56
8. Liability and sanctions	57
§3. Sanctions in the precontractual phase	57
A. Definitions	57
B. Precontractual fault	58
C. Causal link	59
D. Loss and compensation	59
Section 2. Conclusion of contract	60
§1. Moment of conclusion	60
A. Offer and acceptance	60
B. Clauses concerning the moment the contract comes into force: suspensive conditions and terms	62
1. Suspensive conditions	62
2. Terms	64
3. Suspensive conditions and terms in the consortium agreement.	64
§2. Conditions of substantive validity	65
A. Capacity of the parties	65
B. The meeting of minds	66
1. Concept and scope	66
2. Partial meeting of minds	67
3. Defects of consent	68
a. Mistake	68
b. Deceit	69
c. Violence	71
d. Laesio	72
C. Cause	73
D. Object	75
E. Sanction in case of lack of substantive validity: nullity	77
1. Concept and characteristics	77
2. Modulations of the nullification sanction.	78
§3. Accession to the consortium agreement	81
A. Requirements	81
B. Consequences	82
§4. Link with the grant agreement	84
Chapter II. Conclusion of the grant agreement	86
Section 1. Role of the coordinator	86
Section 2. Conclusion of the grant agreement	89
A. Conclusion, entry into force and accession	89
B. A personal commitment by the coordinator	90

C. Recourses in case of non-accession by the intended beneficiaries..	91
D. Suggested alternatives.....	91
Section 3. Accession of new beneficiaries.....	92
Section 4. Link with the consortium agreement.....	93
Chapter III. Proof.....	93
Section 1. Introductory concepts.....	93
Section 2. Basic principles in the context of court proceedings.....	94
Section 3. Object of proof: what must be proven?.....	95
Section 4. Burden of proof.....	96
Section 5. Probative instruments.....	98
§1. Written proof.....	98
A. Acts in general.....	98
B. Authentic acts.....	100
C. Acts under private signature.....	100
1. General rules.....	100
2. Specific rules for certain signed instruments.....	101
a. Bilateral and multilateral agreements.....	101
b. Unilateral admissions.....	103
D. Written notification.....	103
§2. Testimony.....	103
§3. Presumptions.....	104
§4. Admissions.....	104
§5. Party oath.....	105
Section 6. Hierarchy of probative instruments.....	105
§1. Article 1341 of the Civil Code: priority of written proof.....	105
§2. Legal exceptions on Article 1341 of the Civil Code.....	106
§3. Hierarchy of probative instruments and their probative effect.....	106

Part III

Non-performance and termination without fault: impediment, hardship and termination by notice

Luc DEMEYERE and Maaïke VISSER.....	109
Introduction.....	109
Chapter I. The role of the coordinator and the decision-making process within the consortium.....	110
Section 1. The coordinator in the grant agreement.....	110
Section 2. The coordinator in the DESCA Model and in the IPCA Model.....	112
Chapter II. How is governance under the consortium agreement organised?.....	112
Section 1. The contractual basis of the consortium and its implications.....	112

Section 2. The governance under the consortium agreement	113
The DESCA Model	113
The IPCA Model	115
Section 3. Important difference between the majority rule in the General Assembly in the DESCA Model and in the IPCA Model Part II .	116
Chapter III. Extraneous cause	116
Section 1. Introduction	116
Section 2. Concept	118
Section 3. Conditions: the doctrine of unaccountable impossibility	119
Section 4. Consequences of extraneous cause and the doctrine of contractual risk	121
Section 5. Freedom of contract and of the validity of clauses of dealing with extraneous cause	123
Section 6. Numerous variations of clauses on extraneous cause	124
Section 7. Extraneous cause in the grant agreement, Annex II and in the model consortium agreements	125
The Grant agreement	125
The DESCA Model	128
The IPCA Model Part II	129
Chapter IV. Imprevison	130
Section 1. Introduction	130
Section 2. Concept	131
Section 3. Conditions	132
Section 4. Consequences	132
Section 5. The doctrine on imprevison in the Belgian context and recent developments	133
Section 6. Distinction between extraneous cause and imprevison	136
Section 7. Freedom of contract and hardship clauses	137
Section 8. Hardship in the grant agreement, Annex II and in the model consortium agreements	138
Grant Agreement, Annex II	138
Chapter V. Termination by notice (opzegging)	139
Section 1. The concept of termination by notice	139
Section 2. Possibilities for termination	140
§1. General	140
§2. Unilateral termination and contracts entered into for a limited and unlimited duration	141
§3. Termination clauses in contracts of limited and unlimited duration	145
Section 3. Legal consequences of termination	146
Section 4. Termination in the grant agreement, Annex II and in the model consortium agreements	146
Grant Agreement, Annex II	146

Article II.36: Requests for amendments and termination at the initiative of the consortium	147
Article II.37: Approval of amendments and termination requested by the consortium	148
Article II.38: Termination of the Grant Agreement or of the participation of one or more beneficiaries at the Commission's initiative.	148
§1. The DESCA Model	149
§2. The IPCA Model Part II	150
§3. The effect of the 45-day deadline in relation to a valid request for an amendment or termination	153
Chapter VI. Dissolution in the case of disappearance of the object or the cause	154
Section 1. Introduction: the concept of dissolution	154
Section 2. Definition	155
Section 3. Conditions for its validity	156
Section 4. Legal consequences	157
Section 5. Developments in case law	158
Section 6. Dissolution and extraneous cause: similarities and differences	160
Section 7. Dissolution and imprevison	161
 Part IV
Contractual liability by non-performance and termination by fault
Sophie STIJNS, Sanne JANSEN and Kristof VANHOVE.	163
 Introduction: general overview	163
Chapter I. Formal requisition of putting the debtor in delay	165
Section 1. General principle of putting the debtor in delay	165
§1. General principle	165
§2. Exceptions	168
A. Exceptions in legal provisions	168
B. Judicial exceptions	169
C. Exceptions by contractual exemption	169
Section 2. Timing of the default notice	170
Section 3. Form and content of the default notice	171
§1. Form	171
§2. Content	172
Section 4. Effects of the default notice	174
§1. Interests and damages	174
§2. Allocation of risk	175
Section 5. Default notice and representation in the specific case of consortium agreements and grant agreements.	175
§1. Is it possible to notify a representative?	175

§2. Representation: the coordinator in the consortium agreement	176
A. Relations between the parties, the general assembly (GA), the board, and the coordinator	176
B. Notification of a defaulting party by (a representative) of the (other) parties	179
§3. Representation: the coordinator in the grant agreement	183
A. Relations between the European Union, the European Commission, the coordinator and the beneficiaries	183
B. Notification of defaulting parties / all the parties to the consortium by the Commission, and vice versa	185
Section 6. Conclusion about the formal requirement of putting the debtor in delay	192
Chapter II. Conditions of contractual liability	193
Section 1. Performance versus non-performance	193
§1. Payment	193
§2. Solvens – Who has to (or can) pay?	194
§3. Accipiens – Who has to be paid?	199
§4. Object – What has to be paid?	203
§5. Modalities: place, time and costs of the payment	205
Section 2. Non-performance – Contractual liability	207
§1. ‘Accountable’ non-performance	207
§2. Personal non-performance	208
§3. Scope of the obligations	209
§4. Non-performance by third parties	214
§5. Non-performance due to an object.	215
§6. Burden of proof	215
Chapter III. Remedies for non-performance	216
Section 1. Grant agreements and consortium agreements are reciprocal contracts	216
Section 2. The right to choose	217
§1. The right to choose between performance and termination	217
§2. Cumulation prohibition and change of choice	218
§3. Abuse of rights prohibition	218
Section 3. Performance	219
§1. Performance in kind by the debtor	219
A. General: priority rule	219
B. Performance in kind by the debtor	220
§2. Performance in kind by a third person – reallocation of tasks in the consortium	221
§3. Performance by equivalent: damages	226
Section 4. Termination	227
§1. Three ways to terminate, common requirements and effects	227

§2. Judicial termination	228
§3. Extra-judicial termination due to an express resolutive clause	231
A. General	231
1. Concept, qualification and interpretation	231
2. Legality	233
3. Use of the clause	233
4. A posteriori control by a judge	234
B. Express resolutive clauses in the consortium and grant agreements	236
§4. Extra-judicial termination in extraordinary circumstances (without express resolutive clause)	238
A. Concept	238
B. Conditions of applicability	239
C. Possibility in consortium/grant agreements?	240
§5. Consequences of termination and partial termination	240
A. General	240
B. Recognition of partial termination and clauses related to partial termination in consortium/grant agreements	241
1. Temporal partial termination	241
2. Material partial termination	244
3. Personal partial termination (termination of participation)	246
Section 5. Exceptio non adimpleti contractus or suspension	247
§1. General	247
§2. ENAC-clauses and the consortium/grant agreements	250

Part V

Clauses on liability and damages

Olivier VANDEN BERGHE	255
Introduction	255
Chapter I. General regime on liabilities and damages	255
Chapter II. Exemption clauses	258
Section 1. Definition and scope of exemption clauses	258
§1. Definition of exemption clauses	258
§2. Distinction between exemption clauses and clauses specifying the primary obligations	260
Section 2. Lawfulness and restrictions	261
§1. General lawfulness	261
§2. Exemption clauses in the case of wilful misconduct	263
A. Wilful misconduct	263
B. Gross negligence	264
§3. Exemption clauses depriving the contract of its substance	266

§4. Nullity or reduction of invalid exemption clauses?	268
Section 3. Good faith and fair dealing with regard to exemption clauses	270
Section 4. Interpretation of exemption clauses	272
Section 5. Some possible exemption clauses or related clauses in FP7 consortium agreements	274
§1. No warranty clauses	274
§2. Limitation of liability depending on the type of damage	276
A. Indirect, consequential, unforeseeable losses	276
B. Material and immaterial losses, physical injury	278
§3. Limitation of liability depending on the degree of the fault.	279
§4. Limitation of liability through force majeure and hardship clauses.	281
A. Force majeure.	281
B. Hardship.	282
§5. Limitation of the amount of the damages	283
A. Liability cap	283
B. Reference to insurance coverage.	284
§6. Restriction of the powers to apply remedies	285
Chapter III. Penalty clauses	286
Section 1. Definition and scope of penalty clauses	286
§1. Definition	286
§2. Distinction between penalty clauses and other clauses	287
Section 2. Lawfulness and restrictions of penalty clauses	288
§1. Prohibition of punitive damages.	288
A. General	288
B. The criterion of potential loss	288
C. The moderation by the judge.	289
§2. Good faith and fair dealing with regard to penalty clauses	290
§3. Consequences of a lawful penalty clause.	292
Section 3. Possible penalty clauses and related clauses in FP7 consortium agreements	293
§1. Clauses that specify existing remedies.	293
§2. Penalty clauses in the case of late payment	293
§3. Penalty clauses with regard to overstatements of costs.	295
§4. Penalty clauses in confidentiality undertakings.	297
§5. Liability despite force majeure	298
§6. Liability for non-performance by other parties	299
§7. Non-contractual liability for subcontractors	299
Conclusion	301

Part VI

The third party effect of consortium agreements

Vincent SAGAERT and Sigrid VERVERKEN.....	303
Introduction	303
Chapter I. The concept of ‘third party’	304
Section 1. Introduction	304
Section 2. Contracting parties	304
§1. Direct contractors and assignees	304
§2. Contracting parties in the case of agency	304
§3. Successors	306
Section 3. Third Parties	306
Chapter II. Internal and external effects of contracts.....	307
Section 1. Introduction	307
Section 2. Relativity of the internal effects of agreements.....	307
§1. Mere internal effects of contractual obligations.....	307
§2. Principled internal effects of contractual rights.....	309
Section 3. Third party effect of the existence of contracts.....	317
§1. General	317
§2. Exceptions to the third party effect of the existence of agreements ...	319
§3. Third party complicity to breach of contract	320
Chapter III. Assignment of rights, obligations and contracts and accession to contracts	321
Section 1. Assignment of rights	321
Section 2. Transfer of obligations.....	323
Section 3. Delegation	325
Section 4. Transfer of contract	325
Section 5. Accession to the contract	327
Chapter IV. Tortious liability between contracting parties and third parties	328
Section 1. Tortious liability of contracting party towards third party ...	328
Section 2. Tortious liability of third party towards contracting party ...	329
Conclusion	331

Part VII

Prescription

Vincent SAGAERT and Sigrid VERVERKEN.....	333
Introduction	333
Chapter I. The general system of extinctive prescription.....	334
Section 1. Qualification of extinctive prescription and general prescription periods	334
§1. Categorisation	334

§2. Prescription periods	335
Section 2. Distinction between actions relating to property rights and actions relating to obligatory rights	336
Section 3. The rights of (co-)ownership are not subject to prescription	338
Chapter II. Interruption, suspension or extension of the prescription period.	339
Section 1. Introduction	339
Section 2. Interruption of the prescription period	340
§1. Introduction	340
§2. Effective exercise of the claim	341
A. Bringing before a judge a demand of which the claim is the subject matter.	341
B. Formal ‘command’ (summons) to pay an executory judgement.	342
C. Seizure.	342
§3. Recognition of the right by the debtor.	343
Section 3. Suspension of the prescription period	344
Section 4. Extension.	344
Chapter III. Conventional clauses on the period within which a claim must be exercised.	345
Section 1. Introduction: clauses in the model agreements.	345
Section 2. Distinction between contractual clauses on prescription period and clauses on fatal periods.	346
Section 3. Permissibility of contractual time limits within which a claim must be exercised.	347
Conclusion	349
Part VIII
Procedural aspects and private international law
Thalia KRUGER.	351
Introduction	351
Chapter I. The Belgian court structure	351
Section 1. Courts of first instance	352
Section 2. Courts of appeal.	353
Section 3. Court of Cassation (highest court)	354
Chapter II. Dispute settlement clauses	355
Section 1. Introductory remarks	355
Section 2. Choice-of-court clauses.	355
§1. General rule	356
§2. Validity	358
§3. Which parties are bound?	360

Section 3. Arbitration clauses	361
§1. Validity	363
§2. Institutional and ad hoc arbitration	365
§3. Which parties are bound?	366
§4. Relevance of the place of arbitration	367
§5. Appointment of the arbitrators	367
§6. Meaning of ‘final and binding’	369
Section 4. Reach of dispute settlement clauses	369
Section 5. Provisional and protective measures	370
Section 6. Where no dispute settlement clause exists, or where the clause is invalid	371
Section 7. Amicable settlement of disputes	373
Chapter III. Applicable law clauses	374
Section 1. Introductory remarks	374
Section 2. Validity of choice	375
Section 3. Ambit of choice	376
Section 4. Mandatory rules	377
Section 5. Where no law is chosen, or where the choice is invalid	378
Chapter IV. Recognition and enforcement	379
Section 1. Judgements	379
Section 2. Arbitral awards	381
Conclusion	382