ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Every year, the European Court of Human Rights delivers a large number of judgments, adding to its already extensive case-law. This may sometimes be difficult for people outside the Court to know which cases are the most relevant and break new ground for Article 8 issues. This book seeks to respond to that need by focusing on the most important cases. The cases are selected, inter alia, following the Court's Jurisconsult's opinion of their jurisprudential interest. In addition to that, the book includes a number of other cases that raise issues of general interest, establish new principles or develop or clarify the Court's existing case-law.

Our aim has been to write a book that is easy to use and that provides complete and up-to-date references to the case-law of the Court in Article 8 issues. We have tried to write the case summaries in such a way that the readers' attention is drawn to the essential points, allowing them to focus on the jurisprudential significance of a particular case. The most relevant legal principle has been explained in the text while the footnotes contain a reference to the Court's judgment or decision and its exact paragraph. We have also tried to use titles densely and to provide the readers with an extensive keyword index in order to help them to find quickly the relevant case-law for any practical need. We hope that our book provides a useful source of information for the practitioners, theorists and students in the field of human rights. The Court's case-law has been followed up until the end of March 2022.

We have worked on this book for several years and are happy to finally see it in printed form. First of all, we would like to thank Ahmed Hegazi and Intersentia for accepting to publish our book and for effectively pursuing this project. During the writing process and especially during the past months we have received excellent comments and help from Rebecca Moffat and Lisa Cornish who have read through our manuscript and have proposed several improvements to the text. Our warmest thanks to Rebecca and Lisa for all their work. It was a great pleasure to work with you. We would also like to thank all the other people at Intersentia with whom we had the pleasure to work with.

We are also grateful to Geneviève Woods at the library of the European Court of Human Rights for the excellent service she provided to us under the very exceptional circumstances caused by the pandemic. Naturally all mistakes in the book and all interpretations provided by us are purely our own.

This publication is dedicated to our loved ones, our parents and siblings and to Sara, Pancho, Markus, Sanni, Isla and Aava.
