

TABLE OF CONTENTS

List of Abbreviations	xi
Preface
MARTEN OOSTING	1
Human Rights in the Polder
INEKE BOEREFIJN and JENNY GOLDSCHMIDT	5
1. Introduction	5
2. Human Rights in a Changing World: The Quest for Security – A Human Rights Lawyer’s View	6
2.1. How Safe is Private?	7
2.2. Security in a Pluralist Society	8
2.3. Guaranteeing Security and Freedom	10
3. Human Rights and Security in the Private Sphere	11
4. Human Rights and Security in the Public Sphere	12
5. Implementation of Human Rights	14
5.1. An Agenda for SIM’s 50 th Anniversary	16
6. Final Observations	17
How Safe is Private?
YBO BURUMA	19
1. Introduction: Human Rights in Iran, Congo and the Dutch Polder	19
2. What is Private?	21
3. Regulating Actions: Substantive Law	22
4. You’re being Watched: Procedural Powers	26
5. Analysing Risk: The Immutable Me	30
6. How Safe is Private? Safety in a Society in Transition	32
Human Security and Multiculturalism in Canada
RHODA E. HOWARD-HASSMANN (with LAURA REIDEL)	35
1. Introduction	35
2. Minorities and Human Security	35
3. Recent Canadian Debates about Islam and Human Rights	38

Table of Contents

3.1. Prayer Space in Quebec Universities	39
3.2. Shari'a-Based Arbitration in Ontario	41
3.3. The Danish Cartoon Controversy	43
3.4. Gay Marriages	44
4. Liberal Democracy and Religious Minorities	46
5. Multiculturalism and Muslim Canadians	48
6. But What About Terrorism?	51
Acknowledgements	52
Bibliography	53

Human Rights and Security: A False Dichotomy

ELIZABETH ODIO BENITO	59
---------------------------------	----

1. Introduction	59
2. Main Achievements in the Development and Evolution of International Human Rights Law	60
2.1. Affirmation and Protection of Human Rights	60
2.2. International Humanitarian Law	62
2.3. International Criminal Law	62
3. Obstacles Towards a Full Enjoyment of Universal Human Rights.	63
3.1. Lack of Political Will	63
3.2. Human Catastrophes	65
4. Some Current Challenges	65
4.1. The False Dichotomy of Security v. the Rule of Law	65
4.2. Effective Protection of Individuals in Humanitarian Crisis	66
4.3. International Criminal Justice.	66
5. Final Remarks	67

PART A: HUMAN RIGHTS AND SECURITY IN THE PRIVATE SPHERE

Autonomy: A Warrant for or Threat to Good (Care for) Health?

AART HENDRIKS	71
-------------------------	----

1. Introduction	71
2. Human Dignity	73
3. Autonomy	75
3.1. Autonomy and Incompetence	77
3.2. Autonomy and Competence	79
4. Protecting Health, Safety and Life	80
5. Conclusions	84

Human Rights and their Safeguards in the Private Sphere

ALEX GEERT CASTERMANS.	85
1. Introduction.	85
2. Freedom from Discrimination in the Private Sphere.	85
3. Security for the Person Discriminated Against.	87
3.1. Security.	87
3.2. Specific Rules to Prevent and Combat Discrimination	87
3.3. Periodic Assessment.	89
4. Security for the Responsible Party	90
4.1. Security and Safety	90
4.2. Direct Discrimination	90
4.3. Indirect Discrimination.	91
4.4. Periodic Assessment.	92
5. Concluding.	92

PART B: HUMAN RIGHTS AND SECURITY IN THE PUBLIC SPHEREFreedom from Fear of Islam? An Argument for a Generous Approach to Religious Pluralism

TITIA LOENEN.	97
1. Introduction.	97
2. Assimilation Versus Pluralism	98
3. Human Rights Issues at Stake	100
3.1. Religious Freedom and Equality.	100
3.2. Limits to Religious Pluralism	102
4. Space Left for Religious Pluralism? The Headscarf Case.	104
4.1. The Headscarf in Public Education: Two ECHR Cases.	104
4.2. The Headscarf as a Symbol of Women's Oppression	106
4.3. The Headscarf as a Threat to State Neutrality.	108
4.4. The headscarf as a Threat to Public Order.	110
5. Conclusions	111

Conflicts of Rights and Today's Dilemmas in Combating Terrorism

JIT PETERS and LOTTE VAN DER LAAN	113
1. Introduction.	113
2. Is Security to be Considered as a Human Right?	114
3. The Right not to be Tortured.	118
4. Freedom of Thought and Freedom of Expression	123

Table of Contents

5.	Trends and Threats in Legislation Combating Terrorism	127
5.1.	Secret Information	127
5.2.	Role of the Judiciary	128
5.3.	Control Orders	129
5.4.	Evidence	130
5.5.	Harassment by Authorities	131
5.6.	Minority Groups	131
5.7.	Additional Powers	131
6.	Criteria for Legislation	132
6.1.	Effectiveness	132
6.2.	Careful Consideration	133
6.3.	Sunset Clauses	133
6.4.	Evaluation and Accountability	134
6.5.	Non-discrimination	135
6.6.	Role of the Judiciary	135
7.	Conclusions	135

PART C: IMPLEMENTATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS

Foreign Policy Actors and Human Rights

PETER R. BAEHR	139
--------------------------	-----

1.	Introduction	139
2.	Human Rights in Foreign Policy	140
3.	Dilemmas of Foreign Policy	142
3.1.	Introduction	142
3.2.	Peace and Security	143
3.3.	Economic Relations	145
3.4.	Development Cooperation	147
4.	Non-Governmental Organisations	149
5.	Multinational Corporations	153
6.	Other Non-State Actors	155
7.	Conclusions	156

The Role of National Institutions in Implementing Human Rights: The Dutch Experience

ROEL FERNHOUT	161
-------------------------	-----

1.	Introduction	161
2.	National Developments	162
3.	International Developments	163

4.	Bottlenecks and Gaps	165
5.	Foreign Experiences	166
6.	Discussion Points	168
7.	Tasks	170
8.	National Institute and Ombudsman.....	170
9.	How to Proceed?	172
An Agenda for SIM's 50th Anniversary
	CEES FLINTERMAN.....	173
1.	Introduction.....	173
2.	Universal Declaration.....	174
3.	Research Activities	174
4.	Peace, Security and Human Rights.....	175
5.	Indivisibility of Human Rights	175
6.	New Threats and Challenges	176
7.	National Institute of Human Rights.....	176
8.	Inclusivity of Human Rights	177
9.	Foreign Policy and Human Rights	178
10.	Final Observations	178
	Notes on Contributors	181