

Inhoud

- Introduction. Archaeology, History , Natural Sciences and Textiles
F. Verhaeghe
- The making of cloth. State of the art technology in the Middle Ages
F. Sorber
- Sheep-breeding and wool production in pre-thirteenth century Flanders and their contribution to the rise of Ypres, Ghent and Bruges as centres of the textile industry
A. Verhulst
- L'évolution de la Ville d'Ypres depuis l'origine jusqu'à 1400
O. Mus
- Excavating a Suburb of Medieval Ypres (Belgium). Evidence for the Cloth Industry?
A. Ervynck
- Remains of sheep ectoparasites as indicators of wool processing in the past
J. Schelvis
- Adding colour to the story: recognising remains of dyeplants in medieval archaeological deposits
A. Hall
- The Ypres cloth industry 1200-1350 : the pattern of change in output and demand
P. Chorley
- Kostel Ypersch, gemeyn Ypersch. Les draps d'Ypres en Europe du Nord et de l'Est (XIIIe et XIVe siècles)
S. Abraham-Thisse
- Social conflicts in the cloth industry of Ypres (late 13th-early 14th centuries: the Cockerulle reconsidered
M. Boone
- Le patriciat et la production des draps à Arras au XIIIe siècle: le cas Bertoul Verdière
L. Coulon
- La foulurie de Bertoul Verdière à Arras
A. Jacques
- Fulling-troughs, other artisanal remains and the present state of urban archaeology in medieval Eindhoven and Helmond (Souther Netherlands)
N. Arts
- Spätmittelalterliche Weberwerkstätten in Winterthur (Kanton Zürich)
R. Windler & A. Rast-Eicher
- Archaeological textiles fom 13th/14th century Irish towns
E. Wincott Heckett