Foreword:

Dear readers,

It is a pleasure for me to take you into the enchanting world of Emine and her special Ramadan. This book, "Little Emine experiences Ramadan: A Festival for the Soul," was born from the desire to share the beauty and significance of Ramadan in a way that is not only informative but also heartwarming for children.

I hope that this book not only entertains but also inspires to integrate the teachings of Ramadan into our daily lives. May Emine's story be a source of joy, smiles, and insight that remains alive not only during Ramadan but throughout the entire year.

Ramadan is not just a month of fasting but also a time for self-reflection, compassion, and community. Through the eyes of little Emine, we aim to discover and experience these values. This story tells of love, friendship, and the small wonders that awaken in the heart of every fasting individual.

A heartfelt thank you to everyone involved in the creation of this book, and to you, dear readers, for your time and attention.
