

Knowledge, insights and philosophy of the Gurubesar

Colophon

Authors: Vishnuh Society

Adhipati: R.R. Purpleheart

ISBN:

THEME code:

NUR code:

© Copyright: Vishnuh Society

Copyright: R.R. Purperhart/ Lancar Ida-Bagus

© Bibliography, photos and illustrations Vishnuh-Society

No part of this publication may be reproduced or made public by print, photocopy, microfilm, or in any other way, without the prior written permission of the copyright holders.

The Dutch and Javanese translations of the Lontar books of the Vishnuh Society are recorded at the State Succession in Leeuwarden in the Netherlands and deposited by Gurubesar (professor, heir apparent, priest) of this Vishnuh Society R.R. Purpleheart.

© All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system, or transmitted in any form by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording, or otherwise, without the written permission of the publisher.

Inhoud

The Gurubesar of the Vishnuh-Society	14
The Vishnuh-Society	17
I am me, and not what people call conceited	27
No excuse of life	31
The fear	35
Rest and overload of man	38
The egoist	41
Problems	45
Visual thinkers.....	49
Everyone has a story to tell, everyone has a perspective that no one else has.....	52
Family	56
There is no use in crying where tears are forbidden	71
Inclination towards forgiveness	78
Sometimes it's better to be loyal than to be honest	82
Proposal: Grant application for the Non-Religious Vishnuh Society	86
Objectives:	87
Freedom of Expression: Definition and Vision of the Vishnuh Society	91
Human rights violations in times of war	101
The apprentice surpasses his master	103
Politicians and Trust: The Case of Geert Wilders	122
The Netherlands in Present Time.....	133

Criticism of Modern Monarchies	144
Equal Jurisprudence	154
Every Person Has Unique Talents.....	167
That's life	171
My own profession	176
Political and Social Dynamics in Suriname: The Impact on Indigenous Rights and the Role of External Influences	183
Vishnucratie: A New Perspective.....	187
The Way Forward	195
Greed.....	199
Cultural differences	211
Modern Influences	217
Trust.....	218
The Philosophical Truth	231
Application in Daily Life	233
When the day starts	234
The Death	245
Death Knows No Color Difference	248
In distress one comes to know not only one's friends, but also one's enemies	253
Religious mankind.....	258
Discrimination in your own country	260
The social service.....	267
PTSD: My Personal Experience.....	271
The Journey of Healing & Resilience	274

The action of writing.....	278
My Married Life	283
A life lesson for everyone	291
Trauma: An In-depth Exploration of Complexity and Impact	300

Thus, the teaching of Vishnuh says:

"He who remains unmoved when something pleasant happens to him will never be surprised if something unpleasant suddenly happens to him.

First of all, accept yourself with the good and bad qualities or bad behavior and try to control them.

Because even negative energies are controllable. By controlling these, you learn to deal with your intrinsic conflicts."

The Gurubesar of the Vishnuh-Society

The wisdom lies hidden in the Lontar book, a source of knowledge compiled over the years. The man, navigating the river of life, has gained these insights through his experiences and reflections along the way. As a thinker and philosopher, he forms his unique perspective on the world, emerging from the lessons he has learned.

Vishnuh-Clan

His journey on the river symbolizes not only the flow of life but also the constant change and challenges we all encounter. Each bend in the river represents new experiences that shape and inspire him. By examining and reflecting on these experiences, he creates a philosophy that encourages others to also consciously reflect on their own life paths.

The story of the Gurubesar reminds us that knowledge is not only found in books but also in the stories and lessons we gather on our journey. The richness of his experiences, the challenges he has faced, and the wisdom he has accumulated from both success and failure illustrate that true learning extends far beyond the confines of traditional education. Each encounter, each moment of joy or hardship, adds a unique layer to his understanding of the world.

As we navigate our own paths, we come to realize that the most profound insights often emerge from our lived experiences. It is through reflection on these moments that we gain a deeper appreciation of life's complexities and nuances. The Gurubesar's ability to weave together the theoretical knowledge gleaned from books with the practical wisdom acquired through living makes his perspective uniquely valuable.

For anyone seeking meaning and purpose, the Gurubesar's insights serve as a reminder that every step of the journey contributes to our growth. The lessons learned along the way, whether from personal experiences or the stories of others, provide a rich tapestry of knowledge that books alone cannot offer. This blend of academic learning and real-world experience creates a holistic understanding that is both relevant and deeply impactful.

Ultimately, the story of the Gurubesar encourages us to embrace the full spectrum of learning opportunities available to us. By valuing both book knowledge and the lessons of life, we can cultivate a more comprehensive and meaningful understanding of the world around us. This approach not only enriches our own lives but also equips us to share valuable insights with others, fostering a collective growth and wisdom that benefits society as a whole.

The Vishnuh-Society

The Vishnuh Society is a unique organization distinguished by its non-religious nature, despite its spiritual name. The society focuses on universal values, ethics, and humanism, and seeks to bridge different cultures and worldviews.

The Gurubesar is a central figure within the Vishnuh Society. The word "Gurubesar" comes from Sanskrit, meaning "Professor, Successor, and Spiritual Representative." This title emphasizes not only the significant knowledge and wisdom the Gurubesar possesses but also the considerable authority and respect associated with this position.

The role of the Gurubesar is not religious but rather focuses on philosophical and ethical issues relevant to modern life. This means that the Gurubesar engages in analyzing current social problems, providing deep insights into human behavior, and developing guidelines that help people lead moral and meaningful lives.

As a source of inspiration and guidance, the Gurubesar shares knowledge and insights with members of the Vishnuh Society and a broader audience. This is done through lectures, written works, and personal interactions, contributing to a better understanding of the world and humanity's place in it. The emphasis is on promoting critical thinking skills, compassion, and ethical considerations, which are essential for navigating the complexities of modern society.

Role and Mission of the Gurubesar

The role of the Gurubesar is dynamic and continuously evolves with the changing times. This makes the Gurubesar not only a guardian of traditional wisdom but also a pioneer of progressive ideas and innovative approaches to both old and new issues. This ensures that the Gurubesar remains relevant and influential in addressing contemporary challenges. The Gurubesar of the Vishnuh Society is tasked with inspiring and guiding people in their quest for personal growth and social responsibility. This is achieved through lectures, workshops, publications, and personal conversations, with an emphasis on fostering critical reflection, self-awareness, and a deeper appreciation for the diversity of human experiences.

Core Values

1.Humanism: The Gurubesar promotes a humanistic approach to life, where the focus is on developing individual potential and contributing to the well-being of others.

2.Ethics: An important aspect of the Gurubesar's teachings is ethical conduct. This involves handling one's freedom consciously and responsibly and committing to justice and integrity.

3.Universal Connectedness: Although the Vishnuh Society is non-religious, it acknowledges the deep connection between all people. The Gurubesar encourages celebrating and strengthening this connectedness through empathy and cooperation.

Activities

The Gurubesar organizes and leads various activities aimed at education and community building. These can range from philosophical discussion groups and ethical debates to art projects and social initiatives. These activities are designed to help participants reflect on their own values and behavior and find practical ways to make a positive impact on the world around them.

Influence

The influence of the Gurubesar extends to various domains of society. By providing a non-religious yet deeply spiritual and ethical perspective, the Gurubesar plays a unique role in promoting a more tolerant, reflective, and engaged society. This makes the Vishnuh Society and its Gurubesar a valuable resource for those seeking meaning and direction in a complex world. Essentially, the Gurubesar of the Vishnuh Society offers a modern interpretation of ancient wisdom, adapted to the needs and challenges of contemporary society, without being bound by dogmas or religious prescriptions.

Historical Background and Development

Vishnuh-Clan

The Vishnuh Society has a rich history that dates back 9,000 years. It was founded by a group of Indian thinkers and philosophers led by their leader Vishnuh. They believed in the necessity of a movement focused on universal values and humanism, free from religious dogmas. These pioneers were inspired by the spiritual diversity of Eastern philosophies and the rationality of Western schools of thought.

Philosophical Foundations

The philosophical foundations of the Vishnuh Society and the Gurubesar are deeply rooted in a syncretic approach, combining elements from various cultural and philosophical traditions. These traditions include:

- Stoicism: Emphasizing self-control, virtue, and rational management of emotions.
- Buddhism: Especially the aspects of compassion, mindfulness, and the pursuit of enlightenment through self-knowledge.
- Hinduism: The emphasis on dharma (duty), karma (action), and the interconnectedness of all life.

- Existentialism: The focus on individual freedom, responsibility, and the search for personal meaning in a world without inherent purpose.

Educational Approach

The Gurubesar's educational approach is holistic and participatory. Lessons and sessions are often interactive, encouraging participants to actively engage and share their own insights and experiences. This creates a dynamic learning environment where knowledge is not only transmitted but also collectively built.

Publications and Media

The Gurubesar and the Vishnuh Society are active in publishing books, articles, and digital content to disseminate their philosophies and ideas further. These publications cover a wide range of topics, from ethics and personal development to social issues and cultural critique. The emphasis is on accessibility and providing practical wisdom that can be applied in daily life.

Collaborations and Networks

The Vishnuh Society collaborates with various organizations. These collaborations aim to promote intercultural dialogue, education, and social justice.

Impact on Society

The impact of the Gurubesar and the Vishnuh Society is evident in the lives of individuals and communities influenced by their message. People often report a deeper sense of connection, clarity in their personal goals, and a strengthened commitment to ethical living. Additionally, the society's initiatives have contributed to social projects such as poverty alleviation, educational programs, and environmental protection.

Future Vision

The future vision of the Gurubesar and the Vishnuh Society focuses on expanding and deepening their mission. They aim to integrate new technologies into their educational methods, engage in more international collaborations, and continue providing a platform for dialogue and growth. The focus remains on inspiring people to reach their full potential and make a positive contribution to the world.

The Gurubesar of the Vishnuh Society embodies a unique combination of wisdom, ethics, and practical application. Through a non-religious yet deeply spiritual approach, the Gurubesar offers valuable guidance for those seeking meaning and direction in modern life. The Vishnuh Society continues to be an important source of inspiration and guidance, promoting the fundamental values of humanism, connectedness, and ethical behavior.

The Vishnuh Society: A Living Testament to the Connection Between Old and New

The Vishnuh Society beautifully illustrates how ancient wisdom and modern insights can complement each other. Over the centuries, profound lessons have been learned about humanity, ethics, and connectedness, which remain relevant in our contemporary society. This synergy provides a foundation for personal growth and social progress.

The Power of Traditional Wisdom

Ancient philosophies, developed thousands of years ago, offer valuable insights into human nature and the dynamics of society. They emphasize the importance of empathy, compassion, and cooperation.

The Vishnuh Society draws from these rich traditions and adapts them to today's modern challenges. By combining this ancient wisdom with contemporary insights, they create a foundation for a more connected and understanding society. This allows us to work together on solutions that are both timeless and relevant to the world today.

Innovative Approach

By integrating contemporary approaches, such as psychological insights and social sciences, the society offers practical tools for individuals to improve their lives. This combination of traditional wisdom and modern knowledge enables people to not only enrich their own lives but also contribute to a more just and sustainable world. It enhances our capacity to live consciously, deepen relationships, and make a positive impact on society. In this way, we create a holistic approach that promotes both personal well-being and collective progress.

Community and Collaboration

The Vishnuh Society fosters a strong community where members support and inspire each other. By collaborating on projects and initiatives, they build a network that not only strengthens individuals but also contributes to broader social change. In a constantly evolving world, the Vishnuh Society provides a valuable guide.

It is a powerful example of how we can apply ancient wisdom to modern issues to create a better future for everyone. By linking the past and the present, everyone can embark on the journey of personal and collective growth.

This society inspires us to navigate today's challenges with integrity and insight while building a more harmonious and sustainable world.

I am me, and not what people call conceited.

The Teachings of Vishnuh

"Nobody can escape who they truly are."

This principle underscores that despite efforts to assume different identities or to conform to others' expectations, the core aspects of one's true self always remain. Our deepest beliefs, values, and intrinsic characteristics are immutable and will inevitably manifest, no matter how hard we try to hide or change them.

Vishnuh-Clan

This reality can be both a challenge and a liberation. It challenges us because it forces us to confront our own weaknesses and flaws, but it is liberating because it means we always have the possibility to return to our authentic self and live a life in harmony with our true nature.

Implications for Personal and Professional Life

The idea that we cannot escape who we truly are has profound implications for both our personal and professional lives. In personal relationships, striving for authenticity can lead to deeper and more fulfilling connections. People are often drawn to genuineness and feel comfortable with those who dare to be themselves. This encourages us to be more open about our feelings and thoughts, laying the foundation for mutual understanding and trust.

In a professional context, recognizing our true selves can help us discover our true passions and callings. Many people struggle with their career choices because they try to meet external expectations or societal norms. However, when we stay true to who we are, we can better identify what genuinely motivates and inspires us. This leads not only to greater satisfaction and engagement at work but also to a higher chance of success because we operate from a place of strength and authenticity.

Responsibility and Self-Compassion

The inevitability of our true nature also means we must take responsibility for our actions and choices. It is easy to blame external factors for our shortcomings or failures, but ultimately, we have the power to shape our lives. By honestly examining ourselves and acknowledging our role in our life circumstances, we can embrace growth and change.

Accepting our true selves also implies treating ourselves with compassion. Everyone has flaws and imperfections, and striving for perfection is an unrealistic goal that often leads to frustration and self-criticism. By recognizing and accepting our vulnerabilities, we can develop a healthier and more forgiving relationship with ourselves.

Self-Reflection and Introspection

Finally, the realization that nobody can escape who they truly are calls for self-examination and introspection. It is an invitation to deeply reflect on our values, passions, and goals and to strive for a life that is true to our authentic self. This path of self-discovery and self-acceptance is a lifelong journey, but it ultimately leads to a deeper sense of fulfillment and inner peace.

Personal Experience of Balance

How others experience balance between busyness and calm, I cannot say. Everyone experiences these states in their own way. For me personally, this balance is crucial. It is a continuous search for equilibrium, constantly learning how to best integrate both aspects of my life to function optimally and enjoy life. Isn't that right?

Embracing Responsibility

Accepting this responsibility is not always easy. It means acknowledging that my mistakes and failures are not merely due to bad luck or the influence of others, but also to my own actions. This recognition can be painful, but it is also liberating. It gives me the power to make changes and to take control of my life.

It also means that I must be honest about my motives and intentions. Why do I make certain choices? What drives me? These questions force me to look deep within myself and confront my true desires and fears. This self-examination can be confronting, but it is necessary for growth and personal development.

No excuse of life

I have no excuses for how I live. This means I take full responsibility for my choices and actions. It is easy to blame external factors for the direction our lives take – circumstances, people, society. But ultimately, I am the one in control. My life is a product of my decisions, my efforts, and my beliefs.

Choosing Authenticity

I choose to be authentic. Authenticity means staying true to who I really am, even if it means going against the grain. It means walking my own path, regardless of others' expectations or judgments. This path may not always be easy, but it is the only path that leads to true fulfillment and satisfaction.

Living without excuses also means giving myself the space to make mistakes and learn from them. Perfection is an illusion, and striving for it often leads to disappointment and frustration. By embracing my imperfections, I can grow and evolve. Every mistake is an opportunity to learn and become stronger and wiser.

Personal Integrity and Honest Communication

It also means recognizing the value of personal integrity and honest communication. It is important to be open and honest, both with myself and with others.

This creates genuine relationships and builds trust. It also means respecting my boundaries and not forcing myself to meet others' expectations at the expense of my own well-being.