INTRODUCTION & HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

This book may serve as a guideline, an instrument and a divine gift for the path of ascension. It was written to strengthen your divine power, self-awareness and to support your healing journey.

It helped me to deal with disappointment and the hurt of betrayal. It showed me how to set healthy boundaries and to fight for what is right. It gave me protection when it was needed and the insight that spiritual warfare does exist but also that we have the most powerful weapon to win this war and this is LOVE!

The love for God, the love for the planet with all living beings and especially the love for yourself!

God once asked me, how can you love me but not love yourself while I am you?

All poems, prayers and paintings were directly channeled from source to provide protection, affirmations, light codes and healing energy. Channeling and acting on these messages literally saved my life more than just once!

You can use this book as inspiration by opening it randomly on a certain page and then read the message or you read it from the beginning with one prayer and picture per day. Everything that feels right for you is right. You can also leave the page open, so the healing energy can flow into your room, or you put it under your pillow or beside your bed, remember everything is energy and the energy of love will always find her way!

May this little book be as supporting, helpful and nourishing for you as it was for me receiving and performing it!

You are wonderful, you are beautiful, and you are endlessly loved!

CRY ME A RIVER

You said to me, cry me a river,
And I did cry, scream and shiver.
But all my tears and all my cries
Have let the oceans rise.
They removed all the obstacles
And all the pain,
So, you see your attack
Was not in vain.
The waters became
My dearest friend
They helped me
To finally ascend.
So, thank you
for showing me
My vulnerability
Was my greatest gift
Because it has created
A wonderful divine
And life changing shift.
And I also feel sorry
If my cry
Left you
Empty and dry
But maybe
It inspires you
To ask yourself,
Why?
Did you ever want
To make me
Cry?

WARRIOR OF LIGHT

When obstacles come your way
Like mountains high
You release your burdens
And learn how to fly
When others stab your back
And you fall down
Stand up, dry your tears
And adjust your crown!
Stand up!
Stand your ground!
Move your body
To the sound!
And when they banish you
You don't sigh
Just walk away
With your head held high
Because when they buried you
They didn't know
That you are a seed
And that you will grow.
And when they muzzle you
And teach you wrong
You speak your truth
And you sing your song.
And when darkness
overcomes you
Late at night
Always remember
You are a warrior of light!

REVELATION

So many people that did you wrong
But you were strong
You kept it between God and you
To not expose them
Was what you decided to do.
You carried their secrets, their burdens,
their weight
Just to see that they fed off you
When they ate.
And when you
Transmuted their pain and your own
They were laughing
When they saw you down.
But what they didn't know
And God will show
Is that every word and every deed
Was seen
And that they would need
Your help, now
But before they get it
They will have to bow
Before the Almighty that is
Their own creator
Because again
They tried to kill their savior
They lost the battle
They lost the fight
Because the truth
Will always
Come to light!
