I especially would like to thank Kaida for calling me three times a day. Using me as her personal psychiatrist, bothering the hell out of me and wasting my time. Telling me I should relax more and have more fun. Telling me that my clothing style is out of date and that I am not “there yet”. While she goes dancing Kizomba three times a week and flirts with everybody. Complains and loves the attention she gets from her trauma team of boys and is the one that tries to convince me to go out more and not be so serious about everything.

The girl I always have a lot of fun with. Went on a date with that scared me for life with her bunny stairs and is really looking for answers in her life to go to the next level. A girl lost in the attention of boys while she is looking for a man. Not knowing that she does not need one. A girl that, in a strange way of faith, triggered me to start writing my book because I got tired of repeating and explaining everything to her.

The girl that makes me smile every time I talk to her and bothers the hell out of me. The one that gets mad if I do not pick up my phone or do not answer her back straight away with a text message. A girl I do not understand but trust with all my heart. A girl that pushes me to do better even when I don't want to. A crazy but true friend that I will probably be friends with for a very long time, if I like it or not. The thorn in my side and the smile on my face. Hope to turn your frogs into princes. This one is for you babe. Hope you enjoy it.

Disclaimer

Please do not believe a word that I say, please do not do what I do and please do not do anything I instruct you to do. Everything that I say, do and write is pure fiction, fantasy and solely meant for entertainment purposes only. Nothing I say or write is true and anything I do is idiotic and pure stupidity. I believe I'm the new prophet of God and that I will change the world with the books I write, the words I speak and the life I live. Can I be and become any crazier and more idiotic than I already am?

I believe that we are all Gods in our own right and that one day I will be the prime minister of my country and eventually of the world. I am a dreamer, lover and a fighter driven by delusions of grandeur and total world domination. I believe in Demons and that we can create Angels and must live in serves of God which is our true self. I believe God is the purest form of love and that she is our true hearts calling.

Anything and everything that you say, do or feel is completely your own responsibility because I am an absolute lunatic that got completely lost in his own fantasy and creativity. If you break the law in any way, shape of form, I hope you and everybody involved will get what they truly deserve and punished within the full extent of the law. I am absolutely not responsible for any damages and/or mental, emotional and/or physical harm that resulted directly or indirectly from anything that I say, do, write and/or instruct someone to do. I am just an idiot with a big mouth that talks, does and writes too much nonsense and completely lives within his own little fantasy world and reality.
