For the big people

This book is about Jip.

He has autism spectrum disorder (ASD).

That means his brain experiences the world in a different way.

ASD is a spectrum:

Everyone on the spectrum is different, with their own talents and challenges.

Jip is not just his diagnosis.

He is sweet, smart, sensitive and unique.

With this book, we want to show that being different is okay.

That each child is free to learn,
feel and grow in its own way.

And that it is important to have children like Jip,
to understand and support.

So they can flourish - in their own way.

Jip too.

Your child too.

Everyone else too.
