

Today, I'm making a sweet little bunny plushie.
But it's not entirely finished yet.

My mom is very good at making plushies.
She knows how to get the fabric and the little buttons in just the right place.

Our day is filled with joy,
delicious meals, and warm hugs.
This is how it has always been at home.
This is how it is every day.

Mom and I work on it together.
I made a pretty drawing of what the bunny should look like.
Mom gets out her sewing machine to turn it into a real plushie.
