

Hello! I'm Katie. I wake up and put on my slippers. Quickly, I run to Dad's bed. "Dad, wake up! I'm doing special things for you today because you always do special things for me. Hey, that's funny! Your chin is all scratchy. You need to shave!"

"Look, Dad! I made you something at school. Put it on!"
"What a beautiful medal," he says. "I'm going to wear it all day. How thoughtful!"
"For lunch today, I'm going to make you a treat," I tell him.
"A sandwich with cheese, because you like that."
