

Pippa puts on her boots. Spring is coming,
and the sun is shining! She's meeting Owl in the forest.
They're going to look for beautiful spring flowers.
"Owl knows all about the flowers in the forest," Pippa says happily. "I hope I'll spot my favorite flower, the crocus. Bye, Kitty! See you later!"

“Hey, Owl!” Pippa shouts up to her friend.
“Pippa, you’re here!” Owl says in a panic.
“I can’t go looking for spring flowers today.
Robin and I have a big problem.”

“Oh, no! What's wrong?” Pippa asks.
“This morning, I went to look for tasty worms,” Robin chirps.
“But when I came back to my nest, there were four eggs inside.
I only laid three. This egg isn’t mine!”

Pippa takes a look inside Robin’s nest. She counts four eggs.
How strange, Pippa thinks. Whose egg could this be?
